Dear Shirley

maybe this page won't be reserved or anything but I'm gonna use it as much as I can - I could write a book about what I think of you. You know Shirley I'm gonna say about that you are one swell kid and I really mean it. I think - a lot of you. You are one friend in a million! Thanks a lot for that one Halloween when I met you. You are going from our own ways but I hope (and I'm bugging to believe her). but she didn't have any blind dates with a "beloved pal." will I ward & Frieda forget them, and more often than Brenetta would & I could be in Lotta Card'd be in Minot- each other's lives in the future. each one can have in the future. Sincerely Terry O.

Dear Shirley, Hope you'll never forget old Home Ec. class. Lots of luck in future.

EX LIBRIS

Dear Shirley, sorry I didn't get to see you after school today. We sure had fun, we were the best foods group. Well I wish you the best of luck in your future. Shirley - Nice looking report. Did you've got - wish I could say that for mine! Keep wishing lots of luck to a swell looking gal - Alanna

Dear Shirley,

You're been a swell person to sit across from in Home Ec. and to be with. You are a cute kid and a swell piano player. I hope you go far, and I don't need to wish you luck, or anything 'cause you will always have anything you want.

LaDonna.

Dear Shirley:

Oh, those pictures - that Shirley we may meet in about 2 yrs or so - Boy we sure kids we has been having fun, aint we? I sure hope we forget to Monday cause we won't likely to see each other much after that, but any how cause we forget those times. Bye now -

'Pat'

Dear Shirley.

Gee, I hate to think of this year ending and yours one of the reasons. I may not see much of you after this summer but don't forget all the fun we had and the picnic - Oh boy - that one picnic - but we four have really some Perfect memories - and I hope we get together some time again. Good luck & be sure to write

FOREWORD

To you, we give this Searchlight that its beaming rays ever may be pointed toward the dearest memories that life can bring—high school days.

In the steps you have taken to reach this goal, you have moved yourself step by step toward the distant light, the brightest to behold.

Symbolically we may say: In the grades you stood with a candle in your hand; perhaps a flashlight replaced that candle when you moved to Junior High School; but now, you have a Searchlight.

We give you this book that you never may allow the memory of your days spent here to dim. These pages serve not only to commemorate another happy year; but also to perpetuate the interest in our school, its faculty, its students, and its activities.

If, in years to come, the light begins to flicker and fade turn these pages and refresh your memory.

DEDICATION

In sincere appreciation for the help and encouragement she has given us during the time she has been our adviser, we, the class of 1938, dedicate this record of our High School days to Marguerite Craig. Besides ably managing her mathematics classes, she has applied herself wholeheartedly to the task of guiding us in our activities.

The class of 1938 will ever treasure the memory of one who has proved herself so wise and true a friend.

Here's to love—
the only fire against which we cannot be insured—

Yours
Dan

Dear Shirley—
I don't know you so very well. But I do know you a swell girl. You're so dam good entertainment
to your interesting you do.

The CHALLENGE of "THE TORCH"

Principal J. H. COLTON

"To you . . . . . we throw the torch;
Be yours to hold it high."

From the immortal "In Flanders Field" comes this challenge, and with it a responsibility to members of Minot High School. Fifty years ago, the Minot schools were founded. For a half century the torch of responsibility and High School leadership has burned in this community. By it thousands have envisioned a bit more clearly their life patterns—have been able to make more nearly true evaluations of life's offerings.

It is appropriate that the year book for this half-century milestone should choose the torch as a symbol. The class of 1938 has worthily borne this beacon. In their hands it has been a light of leadership and guidance for other classes to follow.

And now as they graduate, the torch is passed to others who must fill the ranks of the departing Seniors; therefore, this challenge to "hold it high"—to keep aflame "The Torch."

"This is the word that year by year,
While in her place the school is set,
Every one of her sons must hear,
And none that hears it dare forget.
This they all with a joyful mind
Bear through life like a torch in flame,
And, leaving, fling to the host behind
'Play up! play up! and play the game'!"

CLASS HISTORY

History, as defined by the dictionary, is a narrative of events connected with real or imaginary events or subjects. Just so, we present a narrative of the important happenings of the members of the class of '38. Just twelve years ago, we all tripped gaily off to our first year of education. Little did we know what was to befall us. For some of us it was quite uneventful, but for Chester McCarroll? Well, just ask him what happened. It seems he was the Kid Galahad of his day, and everything but cold water was resorted to in order to pull him off his adversary. Madge Hamilton too had her talents. Even then she was champion gum chewer of her class.

How thankful we all were that we weren't her, when Ruth Anderson's underwear fell down in front of the room in the 3rd grade.

And little Florence O'Connell had her hands spanked with the rubber hose for putting her pencil shavings down the back of Jerry Hustad, who sat in front of her. We can't tell you who dared her to do it, but I think her initials were F. Z. (Incidentally, she got the rubber hose, too.)

Dorothy Mackley cried great big tears the first time she saw her 3rd grade teacher—she was that scared!

Our Eddie Fuller tells of the time he skipped school to make a visit to the local airport. A reception—the finale was a hard strapping with the rubber hose—awaited his return. Of course nothing as insignificant as a trimotor plane could keep Eddie away from school now. It takes at least a cute blond—or, in a pinch, a brunette will do. It seems that Edna Bakke wasn't always the model student she is now. She used to sneak off the school grounds at recess time and hook rides on the neighbor's swing. Tootie Haussler was introduced into the fine art of throwing "spitwads" at an early age. But woe be unto her, the well aimed spit wad missed its mark, and found instead, a target on the teacher's nose. Much to her chagrin, she was forced to bear the humiliation of standing in a corner, with Donny Rogness, with their backs to the class for many an hour.

'Twas way back in the sixth grade that Barbara Nichols first began to use those big brown eyes of hers. Little Robert Brace, sitting way over in the corner, was the object of those glances, and his blushing face just shone with glory of it all.

Junior High presents the second phase of our school life. The boys began to regard the girls as interesting specimens rather than just targets for malicious teasing. The thought of the girls turned to silk stockings, longer skirts, and maybe just a little powder to take the shine off noses.

Despite these leanings toward maturity, Bill Kirk still did enough boyish pranks to get his hair pulled by Mrs. Carlson. This punishment was inflicted as a result of Bill's pounding on the door of her room between classes, then dashing off down the hall. But he was finally caught.

The pride and joy of the Junior High students was the unaccustomed assemblies. But even these proved a downfall. Little Frankie Cline, the school's Bad Boy, had discovered how well paper airplanes sailed from the second balcony to the parquet floor. However, since one discovery follows another Mr. Johnson discovered the source of the air fleet, and Frankie spent many an hour in the hard chair in the principal's office.

General Language, which first presented to us the mysteries of a "dead" language, was the boast of every student. 'Twas in this class that Clifford Haines got his first (and last?) A. According to Clifford, he was rated as smart as Edna Bakke—but we wonder.

The ninth year of school ushered in an era of love-sickness. All of the girls had secretly sworn a devout devotion to a certain handsome male teacher. It's nice isn't it, that those things are so easy to get over? Otherwise, maybe Jean wouldn't have decided that Leslie Clayson was pretty nice after all. Yes, as far back as the ninth grade, they were having their little disagreements.

Froshmores at last! But that coveted position inflicted not only joy but pain to the proud youngsters. How we hated being called "green"—But then, we found in Biology that green was a sign of growing, and freshness; and we didn't care anymore. For being shifted from the upper balconies of the ninth grade assemblies to the parquet floor again was almost more than their dignity as members of the illustrious Senior High School, could bear. However, after about six weeks of taunts they finally settled down to a peaceful and rather uneventful year.

The Junior year with its Prom and class play was one of the most exciting of our twelve years of school. The Prom, whose setting was in sunny Spain, turned out to be a wet affair. The clouds above North Dakota, which are usually devoid of any signs of moisture, surprisingly wept torrents of rain down upon the disappointed "Prom-ers." However, it failed to dampen the spirits of the class.

Fran Zitur, as Terry, in "Growing Pains," portrayed not a fictitious character, but her own vivacious personality. The rest of the cast, including Joel Story, Al Peters, Myrtle Mestad, Bill Wappes, Caroline Baldwin, Madeline Austreng, Emert Sjoberg, presented a delightful comedy which will long be remembered by the class of '38.

SENIORS. The long awaited year has finally come! We, as the class of '38, will march across the stage to receive the diplomas and thence make our way out into the world. Despite the fact that some of our members whom we thought almost indispensable, such as Frank Cline and Les Clayson, have dropped out of school, we have picked up a few stragglers of last year's class. Of course we are only too glad to have them graduating with us, because after all Squeak Vardsveen and Eddie Fuller would be a welcome addition to any graduating class.

Thus let us end our narrative about the class of '38. Long may it LIVE!

CLASS PROPHECY

We are now boarding a sight-seeing bus to view the Metropolis of the West—Minot. Way back in 1938, little did we think that in 25 years our little old home town would be a whizzing, busy, thrilling city! But here we are. Listen—a guide speaks.

"On the right you see a gymnasium named, "Curly Cures," managed by Verle R. Fawbush (The 'R' stands for Rodney—do tell!) Let us step in and renew a few old acquaintances." Well, upon my word, there's Eddie Fuller, trainer of Rough 'n Ready Rossmiller, new heavyweight champion, so Eddie says. And there's Rudy Thorson, now a professional masseur, pounding the daylights out of Speck C., wealthy dealer in fresh eggs and vegetables. Floyd Fraley explains that he isn't here because he's thickening at the waistline; he's here because wifey Ethel B. wants his muscles to grow up. Well if it isn't the three stooges, Conrad Klevjord, Albert Williams, and Gilmore Halverson, so thick in a game of snooker that they can't be bothered about old pals, you and me.

Heavens to Betsy! get out of the way! Here comes Reform Committee of the B. S. F. (Betterment of Society Federation) headed by Helen R. Say, what's going on here? Look! She's got the whole club with her. Jack Wendt advises us to lie low and look innocent because these husky damsels, namely: Holts, Mackley, Nicodemus, Maxmenko, Miller and Anderson, wield a mean club! I take it he speaks from experience. Kay Kohanes just disappeared into the Turkish Baths! Doesn't she know she can't do that? Here she comes leading Roy Larson by the ear! It seems he is supposed to be working at the cannery but snuck out for a little nap! Well—Roy always was tired!

Now that the excitement here has died, let's move down the street again. There's the guide: "You are now viewing the most fashionable hotel in this city. In it lodge the most famous of the famous: Emert Sjoberg, the sensational hoofer of the Main Drag; that talented team, Leola Rumann and Virginia Blonde, who charm audiences all over the world with their beautiful violin and piano arrangements; Margaret Aamoth, who speaks daily over K. L. P. M. on "How to Be the Life of the Party;" Lois Lentz, the bird-girl who whistles from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 daily; L. Adams and D. Oothoudt, that rollicking comedy team; and Joyce Picard who made the dance of the seven veils famous with Florence O'Connell, manager, catering to the sophisticated crowd."

Dear Me! It's a small world!

As we enter the elegant tea room we are cordially greeted by Dick Durbin, the tall, gaunt doorman, who escorts us to the elaborate dining hall. There we are taken over by Ralph (are you still on the job) Eskelson, head waiter. Since we are such important guests, the proprietor, Benedict Busse, (wonder when he started slinging hash) comes over immediately and speaks curtly to his help. Then with a snap of his fingers Mary Alm and Lois Noon, dressed quaintly in Egyptian costumes, appear immediately and entertain us by doing card tricks and reading our tea leaves. Before we leave our attention is attracted by a loud clatter and clash of pots and pans. Upon investigating we find Alan Colton flipping flap-jacks to his heart's content.

We then hail a taxi and order the driver to take us to Peter's Palace, the fashionable down town theatre run by the Peters brothers (Alex and Johnnie). In the flickering headlights we notice the famous team—Helen Foster and Paul Murphy starring in "The Hen-Pecked Husband." (We knew he'd be the sucker.)

Once inside, we strain our necks to see who is present: Mayor Arthur Robson (we knew he could do it) enters with his guest of honor, June Matz; they are followed close behind by Tom Connors, who made his multi-millions by an intricate scientific method of making little Liver Sausages. Mrs. Connors (Marilyn Haussler) accompanies him, wearing as usual the latest in sports apparel. Her straight hair is slightly grayed by Connors' filibustering. Then comes Madeline Austreng entering with her seventh husband; Sarah Doran, public stenographer No. 1; Beverly Lowe still with her "foo;" Robert Scott, master mind of the secret service; Carolyn Baldwin, adviser to the love lorn; Myrtle Mestad and Boyd Hustad, who are still going together; Bill Haley, who owns and operates "Haley's Hot Spot," a night club; Ingegard Renstrom, the gay divorcee; and many others.

Yes—it's a great life but a greater reunion. And so, after we have enjoyed a most entertaining evening, we slip home and into bed, where we dream of the times when we were kids, and happy memories of our high school Daze!

SENIOR HONOR ROLL

Four members of the class earned straight A averages: Herbert Smallwood, Norman Ronning, Edna Bakke, and Betty Mercer. Since Smallwood carried the most subjects (having twenty-eight A's), he is valedictorian. Ronning came second with twenty-five A's and is salutatorian. Betty Mercer and Edna Bakke both had twenty-four A's and tie for third place. The other fourteen on the list help to comprise the rest of the ten per cent highest students in the class.

JUNIORS
FROSH MORES

Dear Shirley,

Since you're from Mongolia, I don't suppose I can tell you very much. It surely did have fun going down to Grand Forks didn't we? Remember that we forgot something (50 - 50). Hope you have lots of good luck and success in your future. If you go to Ames - remember me when you see nice, fat, curly-tailed pigs. Some day when I'm rich, I'll see that you have one for your very own self. Also when we go abroad we'll order sandwiches and a cold potato, wash it down with mineral water and then depart — Your lots of fun - a good musician and rarin' to go - Hell if I dream about the 'land of the free and aged' I'll always remember you. Love

JUNIOR HISTORY

The present Junior class of 251 members, the largest group in several years, entered Minot Senior High School in 1936; and after two short years have definitely established themselves as an outstanding group doing their part to make High School history in a creditable manner. They can boast of many capable leaders and have shown enthusiasm for the various enterprises.

Beginning their activities as froshmores, they sponsored the biggest bonfire in the history of Loyalty Day. The boys of the class have made and maintained their places on various athletics teams. We also find many of our Juniors prominent in music.

Then, as a conclusion to their active two years as underclassmen, they sponsored a very colorful and successful Junior-Senior prom.

Dear Shirley,
Didn't we used to have lots of fun when we were Juniors? Hope you don't forget. I never will. Here's wishing you luck Shirley.

Dear Shirley
It has been my aim for many a year to be a gentleman my success rests on your decision. Don't fail to hook with me Please! Heres luck to one girl I allow to critisize me in my presents. Good luck Shirley

FROSHMORE CLASS

Although the Froshmore Class has done little as a unified organization, its various officers have been active on different committees and social functions of the High School. They have served punch at the annual Junior-Senior Prom, held April 29, and they aided the High School band in getting uniforms by selling doughnuts, cookies, cup-cakes, and hamburger sandwiches at the Class B Tournament.

Dear Shirley,

You certainly are a good pianist. I only wish I could play as well as I could know you more intimately because you are so nice.

Three members of the class of '34 were captains of University of North Dakota teams this year, and were honored by Minot residents in a Captains' Day program at the University. The men were Lloyd Amick and Jack Mackenroth in football, and Donn Robertson in basketball.

LLOYD MILTON AMICK

Amick played three years under Coach Jarret. He was capable at almost every position on the team. During his first year the center and guard positions were held by Lloyd at different times. He finished his senior year playing fullback. Amick's ability while in High School was never fully realized. It was not until he attended the University of North Dakota that he gained full recognition. Amick possessed the vital points of the ideal football player—ruggedness, sportsmanship, fighting spirit, and school loyalty.

JOHN "JACK" MACKENROTH

Jack also played three years under Jarrett. The tackle position was filled by Jack all through his High School football days. His fine performance in this position won for him the honor of all state tackle. As a captain of the team in '33, Jack displayed his leadership and his ability to work hard. Jack is a continuation of the Mackenroth family that has given Minot High three outstanding athletes.

DONN JOHN ROBERTSON

Donn played on the championship team of '34. He played the center position capably. He made second all-state center. He used his six feet three inches to a good advantage in all games. He was a good defensive player and always held the opposing center to a low score. His performance under the basket was exceptionally effective. The team on which Donn played was known for its speedy passing and this was due partly to the key man, who was Donn. He specialized in one-handed shots. Donn was voted the most representative student in his Senior year. He also played a year of football and was president of the Senior class.

FOOTBALL

Coach "Red" Jarrett has made Minot famous for its strength on the football field, so it seems only right to give him some of the praise he deserves. Ever since he came here in 1931, Minot teams have been right up on the top, winning the state championship in 1936 and also defeating the best South Dakota had.

"Red" seems to be able to make a team no matter what kind of material he has and here's luck to him for next year.

FOOTBALL HIGHLIGHTS

The Minot Magicians opened a successful 1937 season with an 18 to 7 victory over the Regina Dales. This was the third victory in four starts against Regina.

Harvey was the next to fall before the Magicians' power. Though they fought gamely all the way, the gun sounded with Minot in the lead 27 to 0.

Then came Underwood who, fighting courageously, fell before a 49 to 0 scoring drive.

The Magicians traveled to Jamestown for their first major game, to be defeated 7 to 6. The first half was scoreless. However the second half was different. Thorson caught the kick-off and ran it back fifty yards for the Magicians' only counter. Fawbush punted out of danger whenever necessary. But with one minute and twenty seconds left of the game the Blue Jays threw a long pass and connected for a touchdown. They converted the extra point which Minot had failed to do.

The Fargo Midgets came to Minot and returned home victors by a score of 13 to 6. The Midgets tied the score near the end of the first half with eight seconds to play. The teams then fought back and forth with neither team able to score until Fargo, on a trick play, made a touchdown and the extra point. They then settled down to stave off the Magicians' attacks.

On Loyalty Day the Magicians entertained Devils Lake. The first half was pretty even but in the last half the Magicians turned on the power to crush the Satans 38 to 0.

Then came the Bismarck game. The Demons were determined to recapture the Brown Jug and the Magicians were just as determined to keep it. The first half of the game ended with the Magicians ahead 6 to 0. The Demons came back at the beginning of the third quarter to tie the score at 6 all. Klimpel on an end around play in the fourth quarter, caught the Demons flat-footed and scored to put Minot on the long end of the score for the winning margin. The Little Brown Jug stayed in Minot.

Then came the game of games with our traditional rival, Williston. The Magicians gained the long end of a 6 to 0 score. The first half was a scoreless battle with neither team able to cross the goal. In the third quarter the Magicians began to settle down. After connecting with several long passes the Minoters plunged over for the only touchdown of the game.

Crosby invaded our gridiron and though they fought bravely until the whistle sounded, they could not hold off the Magicians' attack, losing by 41 to 0.

For the last game of the season Minot went to Park River. Though the Magicians were the winners they had to fight all the way. At the half the teams were deadlocked, neither having been able to score. In the third quarter Park River pushed over a score and the extra point, then settled down to hold their lead. In the fourth the Magicians got to work and made two touchdowns and one extra point to win the game.

FOOTBALL BANQUET

The football mothers treated the team to a banquet with all the squad being there. Nobody that was in his right frame of mind would have missed it because the secret was let out that there was to be apple pie a la mode. Schussler, Aaker, and "Blimp" tried to see which one of them could out-eat the other. Mighty Man Schussler was the winner by five pieces.

Following the dinner the fellows voted for best player and for the next year's captain. Ed. Rossmiller won the most valuable player award, and Bob Holmes and Arnie Klimpel were made next year's co-captains.

Then, with a few more loosenings of their belts, the team and their mothers went to a free show presented by the Strand Theater, leaving the dishes to Jean Muselmann and Donna Marie Nelson.

HARLEY ROBERTSON
Coach

Harley Robertson has raised the torch of success high during the years he has coached basketball in Minot High. He has brought three championships to Minot. In full recognition of his contribution to the school we want to praise the fine achievement of this year—a year in which he took a new bunch of young and inexperienced players and brought them to the point where they were feared and respected by the most powerful teams in the state. Under his able leadership we prophesy that it will not be long until Minot will again be "in the race" for another championship.

BASKETBALL

The burden of carrying on the tradition of Minot High School in basketball fell to an entirely new team this year. Although failing to win a majority of the games the team showed steady improvement and in the closing days of the season were playing a brand of basketball that challenged the best their more highly rated opponents could offer. The boys gave us many thrilling games, displaying a fighting spirit and a fine brand of sportmanship at all times. The season opened with a 24 to 7 victory over the green Beaver Kits. Playing an exhibition game with Rugby at the dedication of the new Willow City gym the boys were pressed to edge out a 22 to 19 decision. This game was a gesture of respect to Coach Harley Robertson who is a graduate of the Willow City High School. Going to Minneapolis to play a return game with Edison High the Magicians played this powerful team on even terms the first half, only to fall before their greater reserve strength and experience, 34 to 17.

Two games were played with St. Leo's Lions, state Class B Champions. Superior size and experience netted the Lions two victories, the first one 16-15, and the second 25 to 15.

The pre-vacation schedule ended with an 18 to 16 victory over Park River in an overtime game. During vacation the Magicians sprung a surprise by holding an all star team composed mostly of last year's championship team, to a 26-24 decision.

The New Year opened with a western trip to Williston and Poplar, Montana. Williston won 26 to 21, but the boys came back to spill the highly rated Poplar quint 30 to 25 in the second game.

In the next game, with Devils Lake, Class A runner-up; the visitors stepped into the lead. In the second quarter a scoring spree sparked by Beleal pulled the Magicians in front and "broke up the game" so far as Devils Lake was concerned. Fruh showed strong defensive ability in this game. The final score was 22 to 16.

In the next game Fargo's big and powerful team rolled over the Magicians 33 to 13 after playing on even terms during the first half.

In a rugged defensive battle with Lee Fawbush returned to the fray after several week's absence, while recovering from an appendicitis operation sparking the attack, the Magicians edged out Mandan 18 to 17.

In a two game trip to Bismarck and Dickinson the local quint split, losing to Bismarck 40 to 32 and winning from Dickinson 26 to 17. In the Dickinson game Luskow, substitute forward, went on a scoring spree. In a later game the rapidly improving Magicians downed Bismarck 22 to 19 in an overtime struggle.

In the next game Valley City was pushed to the limit to eke out a 21 to 17 victory.

The high point of the season came with the upset of the unbeaten Wahpeton team, 21 to 20. Opening with a terrific burst of speed, the

Among those who help bring success to our teams we cannot overlook the student manager. Merle Goldberg is always on the job as custodian of the scorebook, as dispenser of liniments and bandages, and to see that the numerous little things that make the life of an athlete comfortable are looked after.

Magicians ran up a big lead in the first part of the game. The startled visitors came back desperately, but fell one point short in their effort to overcome the Minot lead. Coach Harley Robertson had taken his green, young, but willing squad and brought them up to par with the best in the state.

In the final regular game the boys played the same fine brand of ball, but with the crucial shots failing to connect lost to Jamestown 24 to 21.

Under the new set-up adopted last fall Minot found themselves challenged by Wahpeton for the right to enter the state tournament. The game was played at Bismarck, and altho Minot kept within striking distance of victory all the way, their best was not quite good enough and Wahpeton won 25 to 22. In this game Klimpel playing his third game as regular center developed a dead eye for the basket. Ten lettermen are expected to return to the fray next year, with only Captain Verle Fawbush missing through graduation. The outlook is bright for a good season.

The Froshmores also made a good showing in basketball. The "Froshmore Basketeers," coached by Mr. Hovda, played eleven hard-fought games during the year, and emerged victorious in six of them.

The first string reserves of Minot High and St. Leo's were a bit too fast for the Froshmores, but the Model High reserves and the "B" squad of St. Leo's were subdued with much difficulty.

The best games were between the ninth graders and the Froshmores. Each won two games, but the season ended before the fifth game could be played.

HARRY GOEHRING
Track Coach

In spring a young man's fancy turns to thoughts of track. Harry Goehring, since he has taken over the duties of track coach, has advanced track steadily to the point where it may rank with football and basketball as a major sport. At the same time Minot is rapidly reaching the point where her track teams are as feared and respected as has become her tradition in the other sports.

1937 TRACK SEASON

The 1937 track season was a successful one for the Minot High School team and Coach Harry Goehring.

In the annual Ward County track meet Minot gained the championship for the third time. The Minot trackmen piled up 58½ points, while the runner-up had 34. First place was taken by Knapstad in the 100 yard dash, Haugen in the high hurdles, Eide with the discus, and Gathman with the shot put.

At the Central North Dakota track and field meet held at Fessenden Minot tied with Wimbledon for sixth place. Jim Newton of Minot took second in the javelin throw.

Two records were broken at the District meet held in Minot. Fred Gran high-jumped five feet, seven and seven-eights inches to break his old mark by one-fourth of an inch. The pole-vaulting record was broken by Halvorson of Flaxton.

The Magicians won first place in the Crosby meet. Gran set a new meet record, jumping 5 feet, 9¼ inches. Gran also took a first in the javelin throw at the Bismarck meet. Gran earned five points and he was Minot's only entrant in the state meet at Grand Forks, where he won the high jump.

The 1937 lettermen were M. Smith, F. Gran, and V. Gathman, who earned a major regular school letter. The following earned the winged track letter: J. Eide, J. Newton, J. Knapstad, W. Fuller, P. Richardson, N. Nelson, D. Huntley, Captain K. Haugen, and Manager C. Parsons.

JOYCE NELSON

Skating awards were gained for Minot High by Joyce Nelson, who this year won first place in figure skating at the Kenmare Skating Club, Minot Skating Contest, and North Dakota State Contest at Jamestown. She also gave skating exhibitions at the Minot Ice Carnival, University Ice Show, and the Velva Winter Carnival.

Joyce, a froshmore, who is now sixteen years old, started her skating career when she was eleven. She received her first instructions in figure skating from Mr. Boyles. Besides these lessons, she has received in the course of her skating six lessons from a professional Minneapolis instructor. With these few lessons she has become North Dakota's leading woman figure skater.

VOLLEYBALL

The Seniors seem to be represented in volley ball by a very small portion of the Senior girls in High School. The rest of them are probably afraid of getting their hair mussed up! Regardless of the number, the Seniors won the tournament! Some of the games were played with as little as three players.

1938 TRACK SEASON

In the Veterans of Foreign Wars track meet at Williston the Magicians captured second place. First place in individual events went to McCarroll, shotput and javelin; Knapstad, broad jump; and Hanes, discus.

In this year's Ward County track meet Minot again took first place with 64½ points. The relay team composed of William Fuller, Joe Knapstad, Norvil Nelson, and Willie Boehrs, retained the Ward County relay cup.

Archie Kouba took first place in the half mile; Marshall Smith won both high and low hurdle events; James Beleal took first place in the javelin throw; McCarroll won the shot put. High point men were McCarroll, Smith and Knapstad.

Minot placed first in the Crosby meet. McCarroll won first in the javelin and set a new record for the shot put. Knapstad won the 100 yard dash. The relay team set a new record.

CLASS B TOURNAMENT

Minot entertained its first state high school tournament on March 17, 18, and 19, when the state Class B Basketball Tournament was held in the high school gymnasium. This tournament is under the authority of the North Dakota High School League, and its operation is supervised by the Board of Control of that organization of which Supt. L. A. White of the Minot schools is secretary.

At the December meeting the Board of Control accepted the bid of the Junior Association of Commerce to hold the tournament in Minot. This organization sponsored the tournament assisted by the officials of the high school.

We congratulate our neighboring schools; St. Leo's of Minot for winning the championship after a fine exhibition of tournament basketball; and Stanley high school who showed themselves worthy runners-up in winning their way to the finals and in forcing the battle all the way in the championship game. We also wish to compliment the brilliant performance of Lakota in their first round game.

The tournament was a complete success. All teams showed good basketball, sportsmanship was of the best, and packed crowds made the tournament show a profit for the first time since the B tournaments have been held. Music was furnished by the high school band. Games were broadcast over K. L. P. M. Following the final game all players and coaches were guests at a banquet furnished by the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

GIRLS and ATHLETICS

The ambition of every earnest girl is to be strong and well. The foundation of wholesome, earnest living is a healthy mind in a healthy body. Health is the key to practically all the prizes in life—position, money, friends.

There are two ways of giving the body the kind of training that it needs; one is by means of so-called exercises, and the other is through recreative and athletic sports, such as tennis, golf, basketball, swimming, and many others. Some form of outdoor recreation is available to practically every girl, whether she lives in a big, crowded city or in an obscure country spot. If circumstances, such as not having access to a gym or being unable to afford equipment, should prevent a girl from engaging in these activities, she should adopt a set of exercises. Exercising will enable a girl to have her body in perfect control so she will always feel at ease around others. It really prepares you for dances and other social activities.

The advantage of outdoor games and sports is that it means fresh air. The thrill which the swimmer feels as she dives into the water, which a skater feels as she glides over the ice, or which the tennis player feels as she drives the ball into the opposite court—is unlike any other experience which comes to a person. The eagerness to overcome and win is a part of all these outdoor recreations.

It should not be necessary to give any special warning about any kind of exercise or recreation. In certain sports there is an element of danger, but the character of sports is such that they arouse in a girl courage, alertness, and resourcefulness; and thus minimizes the dangers with which they are surrounded. Fewer girls are injured by sports than by improper sitting at their desks and in their easy chairs at home. Common sense must be applied to fun and exercise just as to work and study. While too much may be devoted to athletics, the danger is rather on the other side; since exercise spells health.

BEATRICE WARTCHOW

What would school life be without so able an instructor in physical education as Miss Wartchow? Under her superior leadership the G. A. A. has advanced to a well organized activity during the last year. Many new and interesting sports have been introduced under her guidance and fun was emphasized as well as the instructional side.

The climax of the school life in basketball was the play day of which Miss Wartchow had charge. To you, Miss Wartchow: the students of Minot High thank you for your fine interest you have shown us in furthering girls' athletics.

They were required to earn 500 points—four points for one hour of each activity. Most of these were earned in the froshmore year. No girl can have over one-fourth of the total points in any one activity.

Again we wish to pay tribute to Mr. Graving for his fine work as instrumental instructor in the Minot City Schools. He has inspired in the students a zealous interest in music. His striking personality, kind-heartedness, and unselfish attitude have made him well liked by all the students. We, the staff of the 1938, express our sincere gratitude for his wonderful accomplishments in the music department, and hope to see him back again next year.

HOLLYWOOD MADNESS

Under the direction of Mrs. Harriet Foss Peters, Miss Marjorie Nelson, and Mr. A. N. Graving the music department of the Senior High School presented the successful operetta, "Hollywood Madness," on March 9.

The story of "Hollywood Madness," a musical comedy in modern setting, deals with the movie-struck daughter of Rancher Cole and her romance with Bart Ross, a typical country lad.

Peach Blossom Ranch, home of the Coles, is very excited on the day of the Announcement Picnic of the graduating class at Sunnyvale College. Everyone has been expecting Coral Cole to announce her engagement to Bart Ross, but since her success in a Sunnyvale College play, she has decided to have a movie career. Then when a so-called Hollywood producer and director, looking for "locations," happens upon the ranch, Coral, instead of announcing her engagement, vows she is going to be a "STAR."

After she has signed a contract and everything is going fine, two fellows, with "insane asylum" printed on their caps, enter and take away the producers. At first Coral is very resentful, but finally forgives Bart and so everything ends well.

SPEECH

Although the Junior Playmakers organizatioon was not active in dramatics this year, and the High School was unable to enter the contest in Grand Forks, more students have had a chance to participate in some form of dramatics than perhaps any other year before, because it was a requirement that each public speaking student make at least one appearance before the public in a dramatic production.

In the public speaking classes, under the direction of Miss Nelson, seven one-act plays were presented. "The Blue Teapot," with Jean Muselmann, Ruth Anderson, Hubert Rawlin, and Jesse Mattson comprising the cast, was given before the public three different times. "The New Bride," presented by William Wappes, Walter Thompson, Mildred Hagen, John Peters, Carolyn Baldwin, Kenneth Christensen, Margie Olson, William Hiatt, Archie Kouba, and Chester McCarroll, was given twice.

The other plays, "Elmer," with a cast composed of Eddie Fuller, Ida Huntley, Lois Noon, Arnie Klimpel, Helen Foster, Claribelle Bakken, Mary Alm, Lena Maxmenko, and Benedict Busse; "Hugo in a Hurry," starring Clifford Hanes, Gladys Brand, Fred Beyer, William Cannon, Dorothy Jane Reinarts, and Sarah Doran; "The First Dress Suit," presented by Ethyle McGilvray, Gerald Van Sickle, Maurine Steiner, and Ed. Rossmiller; "The Right Answer," with Florence O'Connell, Rudy Thorson, Mae Jothen, Lorraine Smith, Marilyn Haussler, Doris Gifford, Claribelle Bakken, Dorothy Jane Reinarts, Gladys Brand, and Maurine Steiner; "Crime Conscious," with Albert Williams, Charles Pozarnsky, Verle Fawbush, Donald Rogness, and Fred Beyer, were each presented once at an assembly.

Another activity connected with dramatics was the Masonic Oratorical Contest. This year the High School had eight contestants: Edna Bakke, Claribelle Bakken, Carolyn Baldwin, La Donna Bollum, Virginia Blonde, Mildred Hagen, Arthur Robson, and Frances Zitur. Arthur Robson placed first, Virginia Blonde, second, and Frances Zitur, third. Robson also won first in the regional contest and will enter the state contest at Fargo in June.

There were only three contestants in the Declamation Contest: Virginia Blonde, who placed fourth in verse reading; Carolyn Baldwin, who placed fourth in humorous readings; and Claribelle Bakken, who entered serious readings, but did not place.

THE SENIOR CLASS PLAY

The senior class of the Minot High School presented for their anual class play, "Skidding," by Aurania Rouverol, under the direction of Miss Marjorie Nelson. The cast included:

Aunt Milly - - - - - - JEAN MUSELMANN

Andy - - - - - - - - - EMERT SJOBERG

Mrs. Hardy - - - - - - - - - IRIS MAHER

Judge Hardy - - - - - - WILLIAM WAPPES

Grandpa Hardy - - - - - - ALEX PETERS

Estelle Hardy Campbelle - - MYRTLE MESTAD

Marion Hardy - - - - - - FRANCES ZITUR

Wayne Trenton III - - - - - - BILL HALEY

Mr. Stubbins - - - - - - - FRED BEYERS

Myra Hardy Wilcox - - THE STEINER TWINS

The plot of the play is centered around the Hardy home. The fun begins when Marion comes home from college and meets Wayne Trenton III; they fall in love, and as all lovers do, they have their ups and downs in the course of the play. The married sisters both leave their husbands and come home at the same time, each for a different reason. There is such a commotion around the house when they all come home that finally Mrs. Hardy leaves home. But in the finis everything comes out perfectly. Mrs. Hardy returns to her home, and the two daughters return to their respective husbands. Marion finally marries her Wayne and everything is "OK".

Altogether this play is one long entanglement of family affairs which finally unravels itself in the end and everyone is happy.

Wayne Trenton III (Bill Haley): "I want this settled once and for all. Are you going to marry me?"

Marion (Fran Zitur): "You'll have to ask father."

Mrs. Hardy (Iris Maher): "Flowers! James, after all I've said."

Judge Hardy (Bill Wappes): "Oh, er, oh—that's all right."

THE JUNIOR CLASS PLAY

In the presentation of "The Whole Town's Talking," the cast of Juniors, under the able direction of Miss Nelson, proved their ability to produce a successful play.

"The Whole Town's Talking," is about a backward young man, Chester Binney, who is afraid of Mr. Simmons, and who has had a fictitious affair with Letty Lythe, a moving picture actress. Because of this 'affair,' Ethel, Mr. Simmons' daughter, falls in love with Chester.

The unexpected appearance of Letty Lythe causes much confusion; but after a great deal of concern on the part of all the cast, the Binney-Lythe affair was satisfactorily concluded.

THE SEARCHLIGHT STAFF

Time marches on! Leaving behind our many memories of hours spent in typing, planning, and working for a representative, interesting annual; we, the Searchlight staff of '38, march out of this episode of life, eager and willing to begin a new part of our life's cycle. Who knows? Maybe we shall study the writer's life more thoroughly.

The staff wishes to thank all the students who have so willingly contributed to the annual; who have put in many hours to promote this necessary part of our school life. The staff have thoroughly enjoyed their work, even though at times, the thought of the complete finished product seemed far, far away. We hope this book will mean to you what we wish it to mean, a memory book of your happy days of '37 and '38. We, the staff, can sincerely say that nothing has given us greater pleasure than the happy hours devoted in the making of this book.

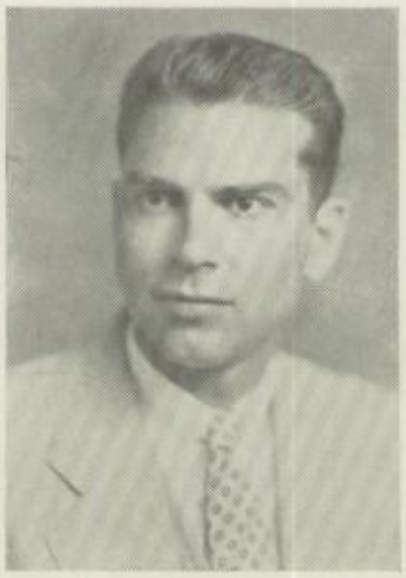
MINOT HIGH TIMES



E. R. Reigel
Adviser

The Minot High Times resumed publication February ninth, 1938, under the supervision of Mr. E. R. Reigel. Eight papers were issued appearing bi-weekly. Established in 1926, the paper was issued until June, 1935. This year, after a semester in the study of journalism, a staff was selected to edit the paper.

The Minot High Times staff sponsored a dance February 25, in the High School auditorium to show appreciation by admitting all subscribers free.

The platform states that that Minot High Times will:

1. Provide a medium through which every student may acquaint himself with the inside and outside activities of the High School.
2. Give parents and friends a comprehensive survey of what the school is doing.
3. Create a better spirit of sportsmanship among the student body.
4. Promote harmony between faculty and students.
5. Publish the written opinions of students and faculty members in a letter column.
6. Bring about a greater enthusiasm for High School activities.
7. Present the humorous and ridiculous in various columns written by staff members.
8. Show Minot High students what other schools are accomplishing through the "exchange" column.
9. With everyone's help, let our aim be: "A better school for better students."

The pep club is an organization of Junior and Senior girls whose aim is to support all school activities. It participates in the homecoming parade, sells basketball and football tickets, and also helps in planning loyalty day festivities. This year it had the special activity of selling pencils, the profit of which went toward the athletic fund. Besides these activities—the pep club sponsors an annual Lettermen's Ball in honor of the boys who won letters in athletics.

G. A. A.

G. A. A. is an organization for the promotion of girls' athletics in high school. During the year they have had parties, tournaments and covered all girls' sports.

Hi-Y Club

The purpose of this organization is to create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and the community high standards of Christian character. Any junior or senior boy is eligible to its membership.

The Hi-Y Club is under the guidance of Mr. Hovda. The club was not fully organized until half of the school year was gone. For this reason the accomplishments of the club this year did not excel those of former years. The Hi-Y sponsored a display of hobbies in the show case in the corridor.

The aim of the chemistry club is to create and further interest in the field of chemistry.

Any student currently enrolled in chemistry is eligible to active membership. In addition, many members of former chemistry classes were welcomed to several of the club's meetings.

This year's club meetings were featured by the showing of several films on various phases of chemical industry.

French Club

LE CERCLE FRANCAIS was reorganized this year under the direction of Mr. Earl Reigel, the French instructor. The aims of the society are to promote the interests of the students in the French language, and to help them acquire a more fluent pronunciation and understanding of it.

The club has had several social gatherings this year, one of which was a scavenger hunt. Here the students were given a list of articles in French and the first group to find the articles was given a prize.

Its hard to find a place to write in your book kid. Gee. I could but write a lot more but I feel so sorry for you having to read this writing so long and lots of luck from Beth Ringo '39

Dear Shirley,
I really don't know what to write except the usual good luck etc. I am sure you will make a big hit at college next year. It really has been swell having you live next door; but I wish we could have seen more of each other. I'm much in wishing you success in whatever you try to do. I know you'll succeed the gal next door-
Betty Sandberg

Dear Shirley, Do you remember the swell times we had when we went together. You are funny you never let a guy know just what you think of him. (How's your mother these days, ha ha.) Well, anyway there's nothing like a little fun and I think the Iowa boys sort of showed me up. Remember when we went to sleep? That's the part of it. Remember what I told you when we broke up (or did you forget) Well good luck and maybe I'll see you again some time.

FEATURES

Dear T.A.

Good, why aren't they all out by now?
Have I the honor to stand here ever reinstated? It would be a good idea. You must admit. I don't suppose I'd ever get out
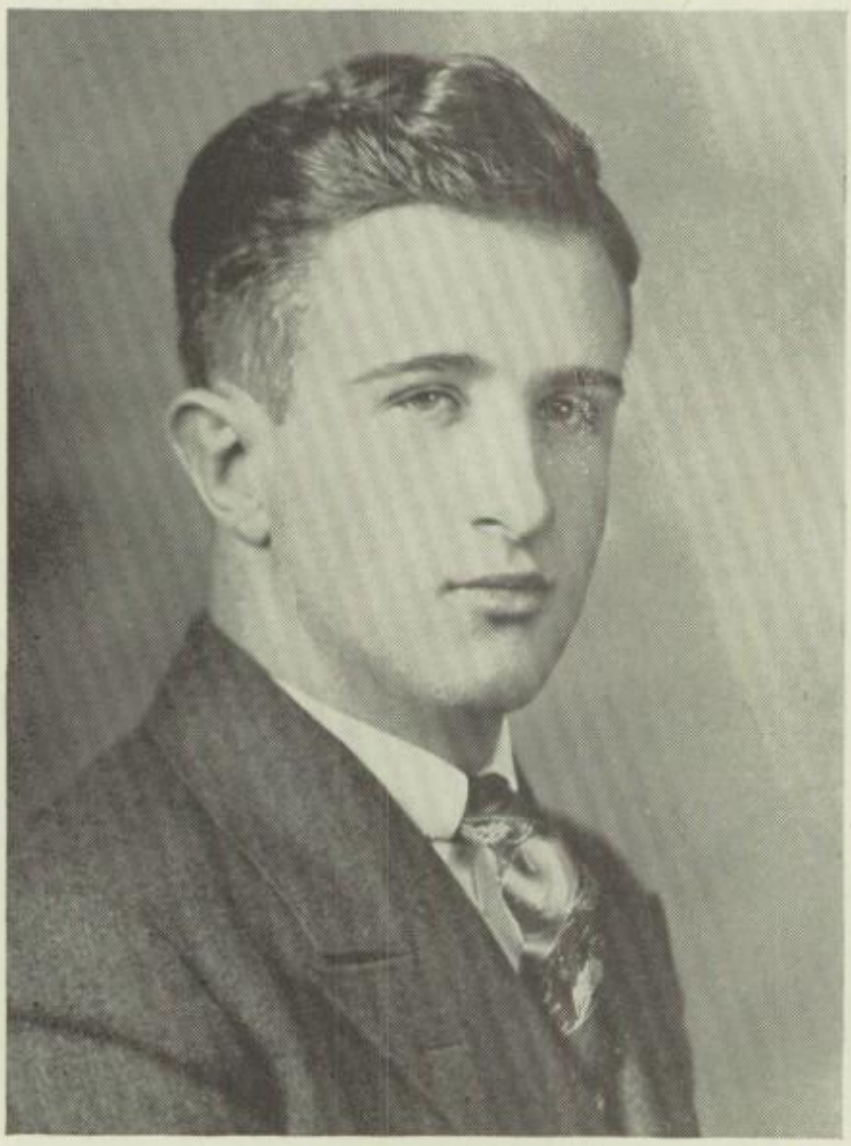
my things done tho.
Are you going to Ames? If
see you there I hope.
You'll have my fault.
You'll be so long.

Love,

REPRESENTATIVE STUDENTS

ARTHUR ROBSON merits the distinction of representative student for he has taken part in many school activities. For three years he has sung in the choruses and glee clubs. He ranks high in scholarship. He has won several prizes in essay contests. He has represented Minot High School in the Masonic Oratorical Contest twice, winning first place in this year's regional contest. In recognition of his splendid work Arthur was elected president of the class during his senior year. He is also a member of several clubs. This year he was chosen honorary member of the Minot Association of Commerce.

BETTY JANE RANNEY has been active as a member of the choruses, taking the leading part in this year's operetta. She has been an officer of G. A. A. and Pep club, and she has been a cheerleader for two years. During the 1937-38 football season she was selected by the student body as Loyalty Day queen. She is a member of the Searchlight staff.



RICHARD SAUNDERS was president of the class in the Froshmore and Junior years. He has played on the football teams for three years; he has maintained a high standard of scholarship. He was one of the two boys to represent Minot High School in the Minot Association of Commerce.

FRANCES ZITUR has shown outstanding ability in dramatics, both in the Junior and Senior class plays. She has been an officer of the G.A.A., Pep Club, Home Room, and other organizations. She is also an honor student. For the past year she has been editor-in-chief of the Minot High Times and a member of the editorial board of the Searchlight. We feel that she is indeed a representative student of our class.

VERLE FAWBUSH has distinguished himself in athletics. The captain of both the football and basketball teams of the 1937-38 season was a fitting climax to his record in those sports during his three years in High School. He played varsity football for three years and varsity basketball for two years. In addition to these achievements, he has taken part in track.

HEADLINERS

In the March of Time many important characters stand out in our memory. It seems fitting that we choose from the class of '38 students who most closely resemble these famous people. In dramatizing the headlines of 1937-38 the following cast has been chosen from the class of '38.

SCHOOL LIFE

Dear Shirley — What to say — what to say — It is always the same stuff — I think you are swell and glad you are graduating. I sure hate to see your classmates leave the old school. I wish we could have been friends.

HOME ECONOMICS

MILDRED PETERSON
Instructor

For the first time since 1933 the Senior High has a Home Economics department. The department under Miss Mildred Peterson, has made much advancement since the beginning of the school. Home Economics is a two hour course—the first hour in the day is devoted to either cooking or sewing, depending upon the semester work. The second hour course deals with Related Arts.

The class as a whole has to complete one project for each semester. In the first semester, the cooking classes served buffet luncheons to the faculty, the school board, and the school board together with their wives. The girls had complete charge of the cooking and serving of the luncheons and it was on a paying basis.

During the second semester, the girls presented a style show at a pay assembly. The garments which were modeled by the girls were all made in school in the class room. Each girl made two garments in cotton. Their first project was either a blouse, housecoat, pajamas, culottes or some other such garments. For their second project, the girls all made cotton dresses.

As part of their course, each girl had one home project to do. Some chose sewing, others personal grooming, others remodeled their own rooms.

The object of the style show was to make money to send representatives of the Minot Home Economic class down to Fargo to compete with girls from all over the state in Home Economics tests. The girls who represented Minot were Geraldine Hustad and LaDonna Bollum.

For this year's work in cooking, the Home Economics class had to borrow the laboratory of the Junior High School because the Senior High lab has not as yet been fixed up for use. Plans are being made for having them ready for use for the classes of next year.

This year only Home Economics I was offered, but next year it is planned to give the girls a course in Home Economics II.

1937 JUNIOR and SENIOR PROM

On the rainy evening of April 29, 1937, six o'clock found the Juniors and Seniors seated at the banquet tables in a Spanish setting. Richard Saunders presided over his regime. After all the fun, laughter and toasts were over, the happy boys and girls dispersed to meet again in the Spanish Garden.

The canopy in the High School auditorium was a huge fan of blue with colored flowers bordering it. Hundreds of flowers banked the stage; built to represent a Spanish patio. Windows were built on the walls of the auditorium with flower-boxes built below them.

The grand march began with the orchestra playing "In a Little Spanish Town." All the dances had Spanish names. When the dancing was over many tired feet but happy hearts left the beauty of the Spanish Garden.

1938 JUNIOR-SENIOR PROM

A deep sea setting formed the background of the Junior-Senior Prom of 1938. Colorful fish, beautiful mermaids, devilfish, and seaweed decorated the walls. The canopy was made to resemble a lily pond.

The grand march was led through "Davey Jones' Locker," and punch was served through an aperture in the wall resembling a whale's mouth. The girls serving the punch were "Jonahs."

Favors, in the form of tiny silver and gold sea shells, were given out from a huge treasure chest.

Art Jacobson's orchestra played.

As part of their course, each girl had one home project to do. Some chose sewing, others personal grooming, others remodeled their own rooms.

The object of the style show was to make money to send representatives of the Minot Home Economic class down to Fargo to compete with girls from all over the state in Home Economics tests. The girls who represented Minot were Geraldine Hustad and LaDonna Bollum.

For this year's work in cooking, the Home Economics class had to borrow the laboratory of the Junior High School because the Senior High lab has not as yet been fixed up for use. Plans are being made for having them ready for use for the classes of next year.

This year only Home Economics I was offered, but next year it is planned to give the girls a course in Home Economics II.

1938 SEARCHLIGHT

TO SENIORS

Clever, intelligent, peppy, outstanding class of '38
In words of teachers, friends and poets, "you've been great."
You've made class history in music, dramatics, sports—again.
Hi Times, Searchlight, all clubs have prospered by virtue of your "tongue and pen."

Herbert, Norman, Edna, and Betty leading with straight "A"
Frannie, Bill, and Iris Maher acting in the play,
Grace and Shirley in the state, mixed chorus winning district first,
All have worked and steadfast stood while determined lips were pursed.

After hours of studying the Steiner twins have drawn.
Emert's wit and Forsee's class and Jean's Senior class song
Have added to accomplishments of this year's gracious class,
As well as words of Maxine, Sarah, Mae and others, lad and lass.

Rossy, Rudy, Hiatt, Haines in football have won honors
With Wappes, Gogo, and Al Mock they've undermined some boners.
Curly's acts in all our sports, Rich's words and poise,
Arthur's friendliness, elect these three "most Representative boys"

McCarroll, Kouba starred in track in M. H. S. contests
Myrtle's reading talent, too, has helped to make this school the best.
Claribelle 'n Eddie have helped Jean with the school paper
While LaDonna learned with Geraldine what makes living safer.

You have traveled through the years learning, growing older.
Worried parents lived and loved while youth was growing colder.
As you start into the world you will not forget
You owe all "thanks" to Minot High for memories then and yet.

J. B.

CLASS WILL

We, the Senior class of 1938, do bequeath, in this, our traditional class will, to all under-classmen who, we feel, have earned them our little tokens and remembrances. May you cherish, honor, and preserve these, our gifts.

Balstad leaves his arguing ability to anyone who can equal his record. He can argue a fish out of water and make him think he was better off.

Liddy endows his, "Hi, ya girls!" to any Junior boy—preferably, Lee Fawbush.

Emert leaves Jane to get along as best as she can—which will be pretty darn good.

Gogo leaves in a rush, of course—taking the Zephyr, but leaving the gal.

Curly leaves Donna Marie to his brother, who he hopes will take as good care of her as he tried to.

"Christy" leaves his special art (?) to Jim Beleal.

Betty Ranney bestows her ability to get along with the alumni lads to Evelyn Mohagen—think she needs it?

Jean Dierdorff willingly bestows her job of "tickling the ole' ivories" to Maxine Aakraan, who is capably following in her footsteps.

Ruby is "inKlined" to think she should have waited another year to graduate—she'll leave you guessing—why.

Out flits Muzzy, happy that her High School days are over—she can spend all her days with her Willy now.

Betty Mercer leaves her shorthand book to th lucky Junior who can master it as she has.

Everybody's waiting and hoping for Helen Reinke to leave her dimples.

Ida takes her "sleeky pageboy" right along with her—the mirror too.

The whole class leaves their gum by Miss Nelson's door—it looks like it anyhow.

The three famous "Minot Aces," Teep, Toot, and Squeak, leave with the hope that Peggy Carr and a few other girls will keep that good basketball tradition.

Hugh Stotts leaves his Tin Lizzie (it stopped on him again) to some Junior, but he can't find anyone sucker enough to take it.

Bessie Newman bequeathes her stately height to Marjorie Danielson, whom we like as she is.

Everett Amundson leaves his motto, "Grin and Bear It," to any Junior who can laugh that one off!

"Rozino" Rossmiller leaves his public speaking ability to Bus Lang.

Fran leaves to join her Buckaroo, but—maybe Betty Haley will uphold that acting ability.

Bill Kirk leaves, California bound—the land of sunshine and beautiful women! (Watch your step, Bill.)

Norman and Herby, the male scholars of the class, go out with assurance that Arnold Schussler and Blimp will follow right along in their footsteps.

Jerry and Max go out together, hoping Donna Claire and Johnny will keep those hall corners occupied as they have ably done.

Mark Stenerson generously bestows his comb and brilliantine to Harry Van Sickle.

Billy Cannon bequeathes his permanent wave to the under-classmen who think they need it the most.

Kay Torgerson bestows her nifty wardrobe to June Sigurdson, who is following close behind her in the latest in fashions.

Leola Rumann exits, taking her beautiful tresses safely along with her.

Doc Haley leaves Cap Aaker behind—but true friends never part, do they?

Allen Mock "trucks" his way out, leaving just—memories.

Conrad leaves his singing ability to Bob Hartl—take a boo, Bob.

The Steiner Twins leave us just as bewildered as ever!

"Speed" Bakken bequeaths her typewriter and circulation department to "Batty Loon," a runner-up in the business.

Rudy Thorson leaves his "Patrick Henry" ambition to Elroy Taylor, who we feel, will keep up ze ole fight!

"Kernol" leaves her name to anyone who can carry on the battle!

Ethyle leaves her MacGillicuttee column to the Junior who is crazy enough to take it.

Dorothy Anderson wakes up and leaves Miss Forsee's class.

Esther Bober leaves this year without falling out of her study hall desk.

I finally leave—happy to bring you my message, wishing, in behalf of the class, many happy school years, and the best of luck! Bye now!

MY DIARY

SEPTEMBER

10—Boy! Does Betty Ranney's mother know how to give parties! Harvey team was here, and we showed them the town.

21—Know all about the war, now. Senator Nye told us just how dumb this country really was to enter into the World War. Gee, it's nice out!

24—The team went to Jamestown. Curly almost gave up going, there at the last—it's so hard to part. We lost the game with one minute to play!

OCTOBER

13—Northwest Assemblies—kinda good, but Jean had her hair fixed different again so I watched her instead. The wind is blowing 50 per today.

15—Betty was crowned queen. She looked so cute in her pink dress. Some day I'm going to get a pink dress, dear diary, and then—we'll show them. Huntley and Bakken announced the assembly and got the giggles—gee, they're dumb!

NOVEMBER

5—We had the Searchlight Pay Assembly today. Dorothy Mackley should go on the stage. Fran didn't do so bad herself as Romeo. Ida and Liddy are quarreling again.

18—Went to the Scout Circus. It was good, but I wish they had some girls in it too.

26—Our home room put on a dance. Everybody had a good time, favors and everything. I got five balloons but Donny busted three of them. Mr. Hovda surely has a cute wife.

30—We played Model High. Had a good time at the dance, but wish I had worn my bedroom slippers.

DECEMBER

2—The boys went to Willow City and dedicated their new gym by playing Rugby. I heard they had a good time—especially Lee and Jimmy. They always get the best pick of the girls in the towns, I hear.

4—By cracky! We had a barn dance in the cafeteria—straw, saddles, and all. These Junior boys are surely picking on the Senior girls these days. Ruby and Howard Gad, and a few others had a good time afterwards, they said.

8—The Junior Class Play was a grand success, we must admit, Seniors. Merle Goldberg really beat it out up there. Rosemary Dennison, the new girl, seems to have made a hit with some of the boys.

10—The team is gone again. Cammy went to Minneapolis too. I think he was sent as a chaperon for Curly and Chuck.

23—The Alumni played us. Gee, they're big! Kay Torgerson wondered if Minot played football on the basketball floor, too.

JANUARY

6—Dear Diary, the team is gone again! Ida and Pat went to Williston, too. Harry Eck and Tommy also went. I wonder if they'll have a good time.

7—The boys are playing in Poplar, Montana, tonight. Saw Ida. She's all Williston. Next year, I think I'll go. They went to a school dance and met the nicest kids!

18—St. Leo's beat us! Sump'n tells me my face is red! They surely had a nice dance after the game, though. Eddie Fuller seems to think he should have gone to St. Leo's, 'cuz they shore have some cute girls over there. BILL'S mad at his girl again.

22—Fargo here. We had the best dance on accounta the Fargo team came and can they dance! Just ask Lillian Sherman!

FEBRUARY

18—Ruby and Larry sure have it bad! I know now why study hall is open at eight o'clock every day. It's a good meeting place.

25—Wahpeton played here. They're not so good! Rolly had a different girl tonight.

MARCH

4—Swell G. A. A. dance. Bill and Ardis, Speed with Gogo—don't get it?

9—The operetta was very good—Saw Shirley Temple, Mae West, and Bing Crosby in person. Evelyn Mohagen still goes with Vic.

10—Embarassing moments! The Masonic Oratorical Contest! Who said girls should give orations—they're made for men like Patrick Henry and Art Robson—not me!

12—The challenge game was played at Bismarck. We lost—boo hoo. That didn't seem to spoil Teep's and Toot's time, though.

20—Mr. Graving really knows how to direct an orchestra. Esther Stahl should join the angels' chorus, or sump'n. She can really play that harp.

28—Barbara Livingstone seemed to have an awful time in deciding which boy from the University Band she should go out with. She finally compromised and went out with several of them.

29—It's spring vacation now. Windy and cold—brrrr!

APRIL

4—School again and I'm still tired. No wonder--after a March of 30 days. I think Liddy and Ida have decided to go steady. More power to you, kids!

8—County festival and all the lucky musicians get to skip school. The radio wouldn't work again for the school dance.

23—District Contest at college. Minot received many honors.

29—Junior-Senior Prom. Breakfast parties, and everything!

MAY

13—G. A. A. party in the cafeteria.

20—Senior Class Play. I suppose Bill and Fran will try Hollywood some day.

21—Lettermen's and Pep Club Ball in the Elks Club. Not bad—not bad!

28—The boys went to the state track meet.

29—Baccalaureate services. Rev. Harris gave the sermon. I'm almost through now.

JUNE

1—Class night.

3—Commencement—Whoopee! Here we go!

It's hard to part with friends in school
When our hearts are full of hope—
But I think it's harder still to find the towel
When our eyes are full of soap!

Reminiscences of a Searchlight Editor

Well, it's our turn to put out the Searchlight this year. Wonder who'll be adviser now that Miss Aurland isn't here?

I hear this new man, Day, is to be adviser. Wonder what he knows about it? Wonder how I can get on the staff?

I hear Mr. Day is asking for volunteers. Guess I'll look him up and see what my chances are.

Saw Day. Said he'd take my name and let me know later. Wish I had a little drag with him. Wonder if he liked the way I smiled?

Announcements: "Those who have been selected for the staff will find their names on the bulletin board. Guess I'd better look, just in case. Oh! Boy! I made it."

Staff meeting. Harry Imai discussed themes. Said he'd send up some suggestions. More staff meetings. The designs are interesting. Hardly know which one I like best. Let's talk it over. A theme at last! Covers. More discussion. Maroon and Gold or what? Guess we better stick to the school colors. Gee! Those padded covers look swell, but—too expensive. At last a design for the cover.

We vote on editors. Fran, Gerry, Edna, and Myrtle win. Pretty hard to beat them, at that. The music goes round and round and so do we. We want snaps, snaps, and more snaps. Didn't know there were so few pictures in Minot. Won't those Seniors ever get their pictures taken? Activity cards. Sorting, counting, hunting up "missing seniors"—know now how the "G" men feel when they start looking for somebody. Through at last and off to the engravers—whoever they are.

Another headache. One senior too many. How'd we get that picture? Who the dickens is he anyway? What'll we do with it? Funny nobody noticed it till now. Now we know who Mr. X and John Doe are—not to mention Jane Doe.

Will Larry ever get those pictures in? Says he will have them in tomorrow—we hope so.

Stories, name lists, more stories, more snaps—never knew there were so many kids in school I didn't know.

Are we really through? Gee, the covers are swell. Can't hardly wait for the book.

G. A. A. BANQUET

The G. A. A. girls held their annual banquet on March 13 of this year at which 17 girls received their "M" for participating in girls' athletics.

Ardis Senechal served as toastmistress and also spoke on diversified sports. Mr. Colton was the guest speaker. He spoke on up-and-coming sports, one of which was skating in which he expressed his regrets that the girls had not formed such a club, also that the school couldn't give better provisions to promote this.

Miss Wartchow spoke on the comparison of the successful business girl to that of one who takes part in any form of athletics in sportsmanship and honesty.

The banquet, with a St. Patrick's day theme, closed with the distribution of the letters to these sixteen girls, as follows: Ethyle McGilvray, Madge Hamilton, Winnefred Coad, Lois Noon, and Arlene Gran, who are the Seniors; Joyce Lund, Marjorie Foster, Violet Melhus, Helen Froid, Arlene Snydal, Fern Fimriete, Marjorie Lambert, Ramona Hearonemus, Phyllis Fuller, Elizabeth Blaisdell, Vivian Fylken, and Viola Forness, who were the Juniors.

Teep Senechal, Squeak Vardsveen and Toot Haussler received another letter for gaining their 1,000 points.

The girls had one of their first toboggan parties in February in which about 30 girls attended. It was on South Hill where the Junior Association of Commerce had put a slide for the public. Some of the girls had their own toboggans and others had borrowed or rented them. For some of them this was a new experience. After many spills they found it to be a very enjoyable pastime. It was an ideal day for this sport.

Froshmores started out their career in G. A. A. with a traditional Co-ed dance. Each froshmore was called on to perform some act to the best of her ability. Some of them gave musical numbers, others gave readings and also displayed their art in tumbling.

The G. A. A. sponsored a dance for the whole school on March 16. The dance was very informal, however, the presence of the college orchestra was appreciated instead of the phonograph. The basketball boys were forbidden to attend this dance because of the big game the next night. About 60 couples attended this dance after paying two-bits.

In the early fall the girls had a bicycle ride to Surrey in which about 12 attended. They took their lunch and made a full day of it. It is rumored that a few of them weakened and succeeded in obtaining a ride back in the backend of a truck. (That's Froshmores for you.)

Friday, May 13 featured a "kids party" where the girls came dressed in short skirts, rompers and what nots, accompanied by their dolls. They played drop the handkerchief, pussy in the corner and other games of our younger childhood. Now don't get this wrong impression of our Junior and Senior girls, but it seems that the Froshmores pestered Miss Wartchow until they obtained permission to carry on this "cradle party."

A DAY IN MINOT HIGH

"Jo-o-ohny! Get up or you'll be late for school."

Oh! Gosh! Guess I better get in motion. I don't want to have to be there at eight tomorrow morning. Not much time for breakfast. Oh, well, it's only four hours till noon.

Inside the ropes. Anyway, I don't have to look for cars any more. Slam. Bang. Hi there! If I start for the door when the last bell starts to ring, will the teacher let me in without a tardy pass? No harm in trying anyway. Got a dirty look from the teacher but she let me stay anyway. Didn't know there was so much I don't know. O skip it! Don't think its worth knowing anyway. What difference does it make to ME when Napoleon was crowned—he probably should have been crowned anyway. As for participles, I wish they'd all dangle—at the end of a rope. As for the Pythagorean theorem, a guy with a name like that would think of something like that. This piece of paper—aw drop it on the floor. What are janitors for, anyway? There's the noon bell! If I don't slip taking off I might be one of the first out of the building . . . . for your digestion's sake. Guess my digestion is O. K., but I don't want to take any chances.

Glad they put a fence in front of the library. It's so nice to lean against!

Hope the teacher doesn't interrupt my afternoon nap. A fellow has to sleep sometime.

Here are some announcements. Must be nearly 4:15. Wonder how those chorus kids ever make it by eight in the morning?

Ah! There's the bell. Nothing to do till tomorrow. If I had two bits I'd go to that show tonight.

CLASS SONG

"CLASS OF 1938"

WE'RE THE CLASS OF '38—DON'T TELL US WE DON'T RATE

WE PASS OUR TESTS
IN THAT HARD U. S. AND KNOW IT WASN'T FATE.

EACH DAY WE COME AND GO—
MEETING EVERY FRIEND AND FOE
WE ALWAYS SAY, "HOW ARE YOU TODAY?"
AND ON OUR WAY WE GO.

THE TEAMS WE'VE HAD, HAVE ALWAYS DONE THEIR BEST—IN EVERY THING THEY EVER TRIED TO DO.

SO NOW WE HAIL OUR MINOT HIGH,
BUT HATE TO SAY ADIEU.

AFTER ALL HAVE COME AND GONE—
THE MEM'RIES WILL LIVE ON

FOR WE CAN'T FORGET, THE FRIENDS
WE'VE MET; AND OUR SCHOOL WILL STILL LIVE ON—!

—JEAN DIERDORFF

PICTURES

What would an annual be without pictures? Many have asked us how pictures are made for a book. We are indebted to the Scholastic Editor for the following account:

"About fifty years ago . . . . . Frederic Ives worked out a method of putting the photograph through a 'screen,' which broke the picture into a number of small dots, from which a satisfactory cut could be made. Described in the simplest terms, Mr. Ives' screen consists of two pieces of glass on which straight lines are accurately engraved at a specified distance from each other. The pieces of glass are sealed together so that the lines of one are at right angles to those of the other, giving a "V-line" optical effect.

When a photograph is rephotographed through this screen the resultant picture consists of a number of dots, separated by white spaces. The dots vary in size according to the degree of light or dark in the various portions of the picture. Where the picture is light the dots are small, and have more white space around them. Where the picture is dark, the dots are large, and have little white space around them . . . . The screens of cuts vary in coarseness or fineness according to the kinds of printing to be employed." (Cuts used in the Searchlight are of 100 screen, which means there are 100 lines to the inch. These cuts are etched on zinc. The best grades of cuts are etched on copper and are much more expensive.)

The metal around the "dots" is etched away with acid, the "dots" being protected from the acid by a photo-chemical material.

Dear Shirley - We didn't get together so much this year did we - But were still good friend any way arn't we!

It doesn't seem possible we have to leave High School does it? I just hate to leave, I cried fist cry.

Remember our blind dates - we had lots of fun didn't we! I believe that will be one time we'll never forget!

I suppose we won't see each other next winter, cause we won't be going to the same school.

Remember me Shirley and write to's me next winter!

A LITTLE HISTORY

This is the twenty-ninth edition of the Searchlight. The first edition was published about 1905. The mother of Bill and Jack Aaker was editor of this first publication which was in the form of a small magazine. For many years Miss Aurland was literary adviser, bringing the book to a high type of student annual publication. In recent years it has been published every year.

Last year Mr. Wangen became business adviser. Under his careful management it has been the policy to "balance the budget," thus not only eliminating the deficit which can so easily occur in a publication of this type but to carry over a balance for working capital to start off the next year's work.

This year Mr. Day succeeded to the position of literary adviser. He brings to the position several years experience with this type of student publication. We quote him as saying that it is his hope that this year's publication will not fall too far short of the fine standard set in the Searchlights of previous years.

What Is a Business Staff For?

At first glance the reader does not realize the great expense of publishing the Searchlight. The book is distributed to students at a price much below the cost, and the deficit must be balanced by the activities of the business staff.

This deficit is earned through candy sales, soliciting advertising, and other methods, such as pay assemblies. The members of the Searchlight business staff have worked approximately 1,500 hours in raising funds for this year's annual. This represents over 60 days, or two solid months, of labor.

Our candy department represents, possibly, the largest single enterprise in point of work. The co-business managers must buy the candy at the wholesale house, unpack it, arrange the case, and clean the case at least once a week; sometimes several times weekly if there are basketball games.

Life is a joke!
All things show it.
Look at the Froshmores,
And then you'll know it.

Don't worry little Froshie,
Even if you are green,
You'll soon be shining Juniors,
And see as you are seen.

* * * *

Mr. Wangen (assigning special topics in Chemistry) "Willis Piper, you take alcoholic beverages on Thursday and, John Mabin, you take explosives on the same day."

* * * *

Mr. Hovda: "What is a draft, Esther Jeanne?"
E. J.: "Oh! A draft, Sir, is the place you sit in when you catch a cold."

* * * *

Marion Carlson: "May I put the curtain down?"
Mr. Goehring: "No. The sun is good for green things."

* * * *

According to a big-game hunter, the native beaters of East Africa believe that no wild beast will harm them if they carry an Englishman's umbrella. Unfortunately, however, some of them do not realize just how fast it should be carried!

* * * *

Miss Nelson: "How would Shakespeare be regarded if he were alive today?"

Benedict B.: "Surely as our oldest inhabitant!"

* * * *

—CLASSMEN THREE—

He who knows and knows he knows—is a Senior—follow him.
He who knows and knows not he knows—is a Junior—wake him.
He who knows not and knows he knows not—is a Froshmore—teach him.

Traffic Cop: "Here, here, young lady! What's your name?"
Speeding Girl: "Oh, mine's Claribelle. What's yours?"

* * * *

"Miss Nelson," said Gerry V. S., looking up from his composition, "is 'waterworks' all one word, or do you spell it with a hydrant in the middle?"

* * * *

The head of an executive firm was frowning over a letter. Calling his chief clerk, Walter Thompson, he said, "That typist—you certainly didn't engage her on account of her grammar!"

"Grammar?" said Walter. "When you were emphasizing the importance of grammar—well, I thought you said 'glamour'!"

* * * *

"There must be some mistake in my exam mark," said Verle. "I don't think I deserved to be marked zero."

"I don't think so either," said Miss Forsee, "but it is as low as I could give you."

* * * *

Miracles will never cease! Betty Mercer was kicked out of United States History class for chewing gum! Who'd a-thunk it?

* * * *

Marjorie D.: "I want some golf balls for Mr. Hoyt, please."

Clerk: "Certainly, madam. What kind does he like?"

Marjorie D.: "Well, the only time I saw him play, he used a small white ball. But from what he said I'm not sure that he cared much for it."

* * * *

No matter how bad conditions become, the "wurst" is in the butcher shop."

* * * *

Alan C.: "What kind of an instrument is a rank?"

Miss Forsee: "What do you mean—rank?"

Alan C.: "Why, it says here, Thomas Edison is an inventor of the first rank."

"Anything the matter with the hamburger, Sir?" asked the waiter.

"Oh," said Larry Kline, lifting up the top crust of his bun, "That's all right, I've found it now."

* * * *

Jesse M. had been describing some of the sights he had seen on some of his basketball trips. "There are some spectacles," Jesse said, "that one never forgets."

"I wish you could tell me where I can get a pair," exclaimed Sunny P. "I'm always forgetting mine."

* * * *

"Oh Eddie," wailed Dee Jay, "I made you such a nice batch of candy this evening, and the cat ate it."

"Don't cry, darling," Eddie replied. "I know where I can get you another cat."

* * * *

Eddie F. (ship's officer): "Oh, there goes eight bells. Excuse me, it's my watch below."

Demure young thing (guess who?): "Gracious! Fancy your watch striking as loud as that!"

* * * *

Paul was calling on Helen and showed no signs whatever of going home. "Did you know," Paul asked when midnight had come and gone, "that I can imitate any bird that you can name?"

"Indeed," responded Helen, "suppose you start with the homing pigeon."

* * * *

Miss Forsee: "What is a faculty?"

Gordon Westlie: "A board of people hired to help the Seniors run the school."

* * * *

Kenny C. was having difficulty in fitting a young man with a pair of shoes. Then he noticed on the inside of the shoe he had been trying on, "Made expressly for Oscar Walkover."

"Well, I'll be durned," he grumbled. "No wonder they won't fit you."

Tom C.: "Give me a match, Spike."
Spike: "I haven't any, but here's a feather; that ought to be light enough."

* * * *

Emert Sjoberg's chief ambition is to raise asparagus on the Sahara Desert.

* * * *

Willie B.: "How long can people live without brains?"
Myron L.: "I don't know. How old are you?"

* * * *

"I had a deuce of a time with that rabbit," said Richard S. "Never had such a morning in my life. I shot it in my pajamas."

"Good Heavens!" murmured the demure Joyce L. "How did it get there?"

* * * *

Eat Yeast Foam and you won't have any trouble rising in the morning and you will be better bread. If you can spare the dough, some people knead it more than you.

* * * *

—STRANGLE HOLD—

Bachelors who live alone, years before a mate invades
House and lot and telephone, buy their soap and razor blades,
Tooth paste, too, all by themselves.
But the moment that a wife takes the helm, the bathroom shelves
Switch, and cleave to her for life.

* * * *

Jean: "I've decided to demand a new trial."
Arnie: "But why? You won the case."
Jean: "I know, but I'm not satisfied with the publicity."

* * * *

Everything is advancing in cost; even elevators are going up.

Dear Shirley
Yam a swell kid and you ought to keep that 100% personality yam got. Luck and love to a swell kid. Love to a Barry Van Sickle.
"Doon"

Dear Shirley,
Am not wishing you the usual "late o' luck" but a whole lot!
Lots a Kay Jorgenson

Dear Shirley:
Here's hoping you have fun with your (this) year at college.
Betty.

Dear Shirley,
Had lots of fun with you this year at college. Related arts and study hall. Don't forget me! Arabelle

Dear Shirley—
I just can't write as much as Norma wrote cause I am not as long winded as she is so what shall I say—

Please don't forget this good times we have had at dances. Well I know I had a good time and I hope you had just as good a time - I sure wish I hadn't had a date for this last Rainbow dance cause I sure would have liked to go with you, but maybe we can get together on the idea — You Know — "

Dear Shirley,
Well, kid ya' been doing O.K. for yourself late, keep it up. I hope you remember the date we had re Bismark a couple of years ago, It was all right while it lasted, I guess I had to teach you a few things about life when you first came to the college. Don't forget me! No, you did all right for yourself.
I hope you go over to the college next year. Well, keep up the light and don't let it flicker out
So Short. "Fiddy"

"Doon"

Dear Shirley,

I don't know if I'll use the whole page, but I'll start at the top anyhow just in case.

I thought at first it would be hard to write in your book the last year without getting sentimental — er sumpin. — But I guess it don't be. I want to say that it's been swell to be a good friend of yours all through high, and I'll never forget you. Everything I've ever done that's worth remembering is in some way connected with you — for instance — tournament, Grand Forks, etc. (wish I coved go to convention)

You don't realize, I don't think, how I really feel about you. It's going to be pretty hard to "break off". I'll tell you. I'm glad I have so much to remember you by. (Is "by" a preposition?)

I owe you a lot, too, don't I? You know what I mean. I won't write it here, but if you don't know I'll tell you.

Golly gee, does this ever look messy — oh well, I spose you want it to be natural. Amer. it getting quite an addition in you Shirley. — typical college girl I'd say. I hope you have a grand time in college, and I'm sure you will — (darn this pen!)

I don't think I've ever mentioned this before, kid, but you helped to rid me of a bad attack of "inferiority complex" — or did you know.

Again I want to say "it's ~~been~~ been all so swell."

Love,
Maxine

P.S. Sorry I couldn't write nicer.

Dear Shirley—
whenever I think
the name Shirley Feilan
I think of a gold-looking blond
with a keen wit and a lot of charm
Maybe I be one of the many to wish that good-looking blonde Fate
Betty Joyce Severin

Dear Shirley,
Lots of luck to
a cute graduate as well musician. Hope
you have lots of fun
in college and show them North Dakota is in the U. S.
Esther.

So much to say—
but don't know how to say it.
Shirley, of all the girls dive ever known you're the sweetest.
I envied every fellow such as
Bill and Elroy - well anyway wished that I could have been in their shoes. all
the happiness in the world.
Dear Shirley, what's the Remember the summer
time us kids got
all the ice cream
and went over
to our house some
fun. Lots of luck to you.
Ruth L.

Dear Shirley—
I had a good time
in your math classes—
too bad you didn't go on
it just easier this next year.
Best of luck to you and
a hope of your success follows.
Here—

INDEPENDENT MINOT N.D.

Dear Shirley —
I'll never forget our duet - will you? I'll bet
you will never forgive me
for muddling things up so in Grand Forks. I never will my self - I hope you've forgotten that part but never will forget
the fun we got out of it -
I don't mean the practicing entirely but especially our trip to Grand Forks. Weren't the sorority girls perfect? I think you're a grand kid, Shirley & really hope that you won't forget me. I hope you have a perfect time at Ames next yr and every other year - I know that you'll get places with your playing (plus of course)
and your pleasant smile
personality and all what it takes.
Thanks lots for your kindness and for putting me up around in the U - Practicing all the time - Oh Shucks, this looks like a book so I'll stop.
Just oodles of luck to you
and keep up your good piano playing
L. O. F.
Grace.

Shirley
By Jacky
(you're very)
all right - I much enjoyed our duet - so far as I might say you're superlative
or super - magnificent.
Tried away - I'm getting car-
less luck an' stuff,
Iris

Dear Shirley,
I wonder who the
person is referred to
under your name.
Does it start with a "B": "Buds"
Dear Shirley, Loads of luck
to a very sweet
girl I knew in
U. S.
Ethel.

Dear Shirley
Please Be kind - I'm certainly in future
Stuff called work.

Best of success and happiness to a swell girl
"Mary"

Dear Shirley
Now that
we're graduating,
our days, tons of
luck from one graduate to another, and
best wishes
for success
in the future

Dear Shirley
Trishing
you lots of luck
Russell Bronfield

Dear Shirley,
Good luck to a swell girl
Remember me
when you've made it!
Pearl

Dear Shirley
It's been nice knowing
hope we'll always be friends
be mutually good friends
Theres luck
future to a girl
very sweet
Dorsey

Good luck
in everything,
and have fun at college.
Love,
Joan.

Dear Shirley -
Lots of luck
to a smart
honor roll student
Delores

Dear Shirley,
Well, time
we are Practically through. Lots of luck
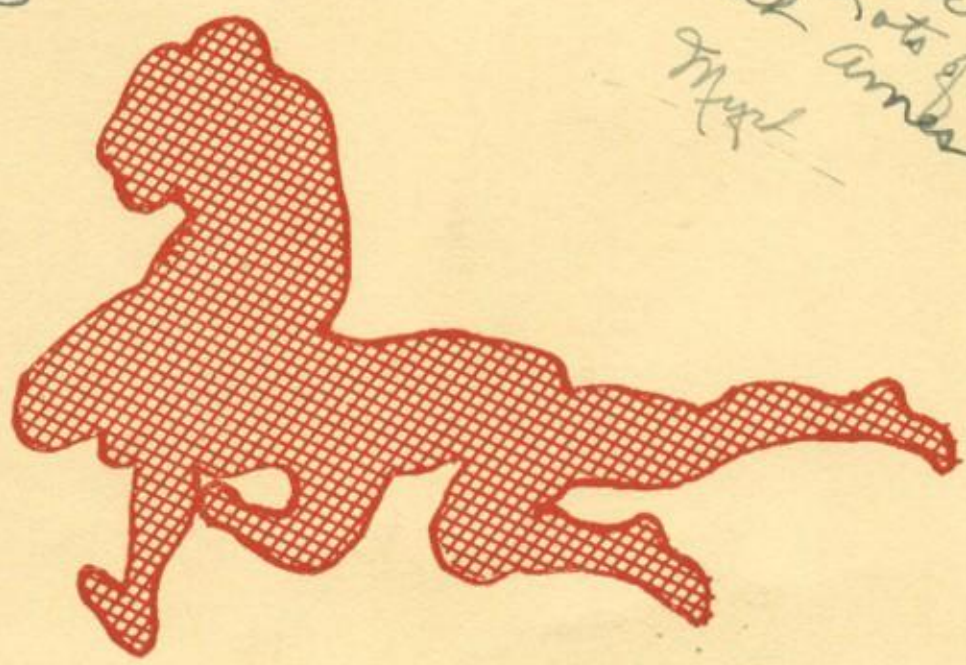
to you at Annex. SP.?
Myrl



Dear Shirley.
Good luck in your music.
Your sweet
a. brother
